

History

This half term we will look at the changes in toys over the past 60 years. We will begin by looking at modern day toys and discuss and make comparisons between the toys they play with in the modern day. Each lesson then looks back a little further in time, with the children looking at the toys they played with when they were babies, the toys their parents had when they were a similar age to them and concludes with them looking at the toys that their grandparents had when they were younger.

The chronology of these events is clearly marked on a timeline to help their understanding of the past. During all of these lessons, children will discuss what things we do to help us find out about the past. The children will become 'history detectives' and will be encouraged to ask questions, make comparisons and use evidence to help them come to conclusions.

Key Vocabulary

before: at an earlier time after: later in time past: having happened or gone by at an earlier time present: existing at this time old: not new new: having recently arrived modern: having to do with the present or current times timeline: presentation of a chronology of events and their dates

Class Keighley Spring Term History & Geography

Geography

This half term we will take four different world journeys, starting with the local area. We will then look at the similarities and differences of coastal, rainforest, dry (desert) and world city locations. Alongside this, we will be learning about the continents and then moving children beyond locational knowledge to a deeper understanding of place.

Key Vocabulary

world: everything that exists landmark: a historic building or place coast: land next to the ocean coastline: the outline or shape of a coast equator: the imaginary circle around the earth that is halfway between the North and South Poles continent: one of the earth's seven major areas of land city: a large and important town where many people live and work capital: the city where the government of a country, state, or province is located

Through the love of God, we protect our school community. Together we trust, hope, persevere and flourish on life's great adventure